PT XL Axiata Tbk interlace cooperation with Jongla

Maybe it's a lot of people who know of the existence of one of the mobile application called Jongla Instant Messenger (IM) is. More recently, PT XL Axiata Tbk cooperates with Jongla to provide convenience to the people of Indonesia to enjoy the ease of digital content transaction in the application.

Senior GM XL Digital Entertainment, Revie Sylviana in a press release received by Antara in London, Thursday, said the partnership with the seriousness XL Jongla an answer the needs of the people of Indonesia with internet connectivity through an instant messaging service (instant messaging) are easy and convenient to use.

"People can trade in Jongla applications using XL pulse and ease the user to access the application Jongla to enable data packets Jongla where customers can enjoy free access to 50MB per day her, "he said, as quoted by Antara (7.11).

Jongla IM is an instant messaging application that intelligent service that allows users to connect with people who they wanted whenever and from wherever they are. With instant messaging services and sharing media files, Jongla offers an additional layer of personalization, social features and the ability to share the sticker action and speak out.

"This is what distinguishes Jongla with other instant messaging services," he said. In addition, an attractive feature rich Jongla so as a service to be held for young people around the world. Revie Sylviana added, Jongla known as a reliable messaging service and fast which allows users to keep in touch with the people they care about.

"We were impressed with the scope of cross-platform Jongla, attractive design, different features with other instant messaging services and user experience teroptimilisasi, making instant messaging services Jongla truly unique," he said again.

So the XL and Jongla, a partner who perfect and expected in the future this cooperation will develop.

Meanwhile, Chief Executive Officer Jongla, Riku Salminen said cooperation it is a big step for the company to enter the Indonesian market, the country's internet users is growing rapidly in Southeast Asia.

This strategic partnership XL will accelerate and enlarge the process and offers an opportunity for the people of Indonesia to take advantage of Jongla, instant messaging service is not paid, he said. The data and messages go hand in hand, so this partnership to be complete and perfect, he said again.

Riku adding his party's mission is offering a service that's fast, fun and free to more people around the world and cross-platform services and Jongla best technology will help push it.

"We are also optimistic about the unique features and platform Jongla able to attract people of Indonesia and became one of the 3 chat applications are most often used in Indonesia at the end of 2015, "he said.